

"Blessed are the merciful, for mercy they will find".

Dear Parents,

It is human nature to have preconceived ideas of the world around us and the people who live in it. These 'world views' are influenced by our past experiences – what we hear, see, read about etc. I know I am guilty of generalising (my children tell me so ☹).

Have you ever stopped to think of what others' views are of 'Catholics'? That's us – you and me. This came to my attention during the homily at a Sunday Mass I attended at Sacred Heart Church in Morningside Heights, an area of New York City. The priest raised the question about others' world view of Catholics. He proposed the idea that, generally, Catholics are viewed those that 'don't allow this' and 'don't allow that'. How can we change this view to be a people that 'do' rather than 'don't'?

The Hebrew Scriptures in the Old Testament preach loving your neighbour. In John's Gospel, we read about Jesus telling His disciples, 'A new commandment I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so also you must love one another. By this all men will know that you are My disciples, if you love one another.' (John 13: 34-35). Many of us have sung the popular hymn, 'They will know we are Christians by our love'. Jesus' new commandment challenges us to love all people, not just our neighbour. I ask myself what I can do to ensure that 'others' see Catholics as people of love are caring and considerate. I pose the same question to members of my school community, more importantly, what can I do to help you. Let us work together so that others will know we are Christians by our love for one another.

"Sacred Heart of Jesus, I place my trust in thee."

Along this same theme, today is the Feast of the Sacred Heart, a movable feast. Having grown up in and received all sacraments in Sacred Heart Parish, I have particular devotion to and great faith in the Sacred Heart. Remember to pray and place your trust in God's hands and have faith in His plan for us, especially when 'things go wrong'.

Winter has arrived.

This week we felt the arrival of cold weather – at last. It certainly was hard to get out of a warm bed and get to work on time. Quite a number of staff members, in fact arrived late for work, around 9.15am or so. When questioned their response was, 'Oh, it was cold and it was just too hard to get out of bed'. What should I say? What would your boss say if you were late for work and that was the reason, day after day?

None of this is true, of course. However it is true of many of our students and the excuse given by parents. School is a training ground, preparing young people for the 'grown up world'. It is parents' responsibility to be the parents. Insist that your children are up and ready and at school on time.

Only 64 children out of 475 have been on time for school every day this year. DO NOT allow for television or iPad or PC, or any other distractions in the morning. You are the parent. Please do the parenting. It is your responsibility and your child/ren will thank you.

Pyjama Day

Speaking of cold weather, there are many people who do not have the comfort of a roof over their head or a warm bed. Many are in our own neighbourhood. Thank you to Mrs Byrne (acting REC) and the Mini-Vinnies students for organising pyjama day and highlighting the plight of others. Thank you to all of you who donated warm bedding etc. Members of this school community are known for their generosity and the Vinnies men were astounded at the amount and good quality of your donations. Your actions means there will be many people a whole lot warmer this winter. Thank you.

Gospel according to Luke 7:11-17

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke

Young man, I say to you arise.

Jesus went to a town called Nain, accompanied by his disciples and a great number of people. When he was near the gate of the town it happened that a dead man was being carried out for burial, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow. And a considerable number of the townspeople were with her. When the Lord saw her he felt sorry for her. 'Do not cry,' he said. Then he went up and put his hand on the bier and the bearers stood still, and he said, 'Young man, I tell you to get up'. And the dead man sat up and began to talk, and Jesus gave him to his mother. Everyone was filled with awe and praised God saying, 'A great prophet has appeared among us; God has visited his people.' And this opinion of him spread throughout Judaea and all over the countryside.

Reflection

This Sunday's Gospel according to Luke, Jesus is helping those in need as He resurrects the young man. This miracle was witnessed by many people and they in return spread the Good News about Jesus. Jesus saw a need and felt empathy for the mother and in return helped her. We are able to live Luke's Gospel through our willingness to help those who are vulnerable around us. We can help those who are denied basic necessities, like food, shelter and love. It is our compassion to others and our capacity to restore someone to life in the way Jesus restored the life of the widow. In life, we will encounter those who have been cast out by life circumstances or by the cruel actions of others and we have the opportunity to restore them to a fuller life throughout actions. We restore life when we restore dignity; when we refuse to participate in crushing someone down and instead extend a hand to help them up. (Liturgy Help-Homilies and Reflections © Greg Sunter)

THANK YOU from St Vincent de Paul

As a community we have shown extreme generosity through the giving of warm clothes and blankets. It is amazing looking at the kindness of our OLA families. Through this kindness we have lived out Sunday's Gospel, by providing warmth to those who have nothing. Sometimes it is not just the items supplied but the willingness to work together as a community to provide for the less fortunate. By seeing a need, we are thinking of those people that encounter hardships and therefore in one way we are praying for them. This is the true gift, that God's love has been reflected through actions and words.

From the SRC

On Thursday 2nd June, OLA had Pyjama Day. We got to wear our favourite PJ's to school. We were asked to bring in some warm things like scarves, blankets, gloves and other clothing for those who are poor and cold during the Winter Season. At first break we got to organise some fun games for the school to enjoy! We did races, relays, guessing competitions and many more. We had two competitions which were a Jelly Bean and a Skittle competition. For the competitions you had to guess how many Jelly Beans or skittles were in the jar. (Year 5 SRC-Tyra A, Beatrice E and Millie E)

From Mini Vinnies Group...

"I am very happy to say that our social justice program has been a great success and that we have had a lot of donations over the last week. Pyjama Day does not just mean we have to dress up in our pyjamas at school. In fact, on pyjama day we think about all the people in the world who live on the streets or are not wealthy but poor. Thank you for your clothes, blankets, scarves and other items you have donated."

Can you help??

Literacy News

Vocabulary building tips

1. Focus on kid-friendly definitions and examples of new words rather than complicated dictionary-style definitions.
2. Keep track of the words your child knows. List them. Categorize them. Play games with them. Revisit them. Kids often need multiple exposures to words in order to really learn them.

Next week's 'words of the week' are: Infants- freeze      Primary-ignite

Reading is Cool! Reminder!

As part of our drive to raise the image of 'reading is cool', particularly among boys, we are seeking pictures of dads, or any males, reading a book.

This means one picture of dad/grandpa/friend/ etc reading a picture book. If possible, a really good idea is a shot of the person in work dress - ie a policeman in uniform reading.

Thank you to these wonderful role models!

Calling bakers and helping hands ...

On Tuesday, the P&F will be running a small canteen with baked goods and light refreshments for parents at the OLA Athletics Carnival. We would like to ask for support from anyone who is able to donate a baked treat. Suggestions include nut-free sliced cake, slices, cupcakes, cookies and other baked treats that can be sold individually. Refrigeration at the park will not be available so please avoid any cream or butter icing that may spoil in the heat.
